

The alien's heart

Hi I'm Alan, from P-planet and this is the story of my heart.

Everything was boring on my planet and I was feeling so alone, that I have decided to look for a change.

I made some research,
packed my things,
and...guess what...straight to the Earth.

Finally, my rocket landed, and I inhaled the purest air in the whole universe.

I started my journey following my heart. Have been in every corner of the world and was amazed by the uniqueness of each country.

I noticed that people were using different languages and alphabets, but what was similar, all of them were full of care.

was lucky enough to get acquainted to the whole new world from the eyes of traditional music. To hear the spirit of each country.

I was amazed to see all the diversity of traditional clothes and wear them.

Have got time even to be amazed by the architecture of countries which were stunning.

Participated in many festivals and traditional days of the countries.

was amazed how people in different places cook the same food differently.

I climbed to the top of the highest mountains while being totally frozen....

....and was chilling next to the sea getting a suntan.

what can I say? I was in love with the diversity of cultures and had so much fun. Yay

This is my heart's story about The Earth's diverse culture.

The
end
